

Cancer Center Medical Leadership

Enrique Escalon, M.D.

Director, Division of Hematology-Oncology and Cancer Center, MCH

Dr. Escalon earned his medical degree from University of El Salvador Medical School. He served his residency at Miami Children's Hospital, and was appointed chief resident in 1974. Dr. Escalon completed his fellowship in pediatric hematology-oncology at Miami Children's Hospital and is board certified in pediatrics and pediatric hematology-oncology. Dr. Escalon has also served since 1990 as Principal MCH Investigator for the Children's Oncology Group, a prestigious national cancer research organization in which MCH holds membership status.

Athena Christodoulou-Pefkarou, M.D.

Associate Director, Hematology-Oncology Division, Director Sickle Cell Comprehensive Care Center, Director, UOTS Camp, MCH

Dr. Pefkarou received her medical degree from University College Medical School at London University in London, England. She completed her residency in pediatrics at Mercy Hospital in Baltimore and a fellowship in pediatric hematology-oncology at Miami Children's Hospital. Dr. Pefkarou is board certified in pediatrics and pediatric hematology-oncology.

John A. Fort, M.D.

Director, Bone Marrow Transplant Program, MCH

Dr. Fort received his medical degree from the University of Louisville School of Medicine, in Louisville, Kentucky. He did his pediatric residency at the University of Louisville, and a fellowship in hematology-oncology-bone marrow transplantation at the University of Florida. He was an assistant professor at George Washington University School of Medicine, in Washington, DC, prior to coming to Miami Children's Hospital. He is a member of the American Society of Bone Marrow Transplantation, and the American Society of Clinical Oncology. He is also a Principal Investigator with the Pediatric Blood and Marrow Transplant Consortium, of which Miami Children's Hospital is a participating member.

Ziad Ahmad Khatib, M.D.

Director, Neuro-Oncology, MCH

Dr. Khatib received his medical degree from American University of Beirut, Lebanon. He completed his residency at Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami and a fellowship in hematology-oncology at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tennessee. Dr. Khatib is a member of the American Society Hematology, American Society of Clinical Oncology, American Society of Pediatric Hematology Oncology and the Society of Neuro-Oncology. He participates in conducting research studies involving children with brain tumors and testing new approaches for cancer treatment.

Guillermo R. De Angulo, M.D.

Hematologist-Oncologist, MCH

Dr. De Angulo received his medical degree at the Escuela de Ciencias Medicas/Universidad Autonoma de Centro America in San Jose, Costa Rica. He completed his residency in pediatrics at Driscoll Children's Hospital/Texas A&M University College of Medicine and a fellowship in pediatric hematology-oncology at the University of Texas M. D. Anderson Cancer Center in Houston, Texas. During his fellowship he was awarded the Young Investigator Travel Award by the American Society of Pediatric Hematology Oncology. Dr. De Angulo is board certified in pediatrics and pediatric hematology-oncology. Dr. De Angulo actively participates in research. He has published and has presented research outcomes at numerous national and international conferences.